

Rutherglen 900 - Mission Statement

Working with the communities of Rutherglen to celebrate the people and place. Hosting a program that amplifies Rutherglen at a local and national scale matching the ambition of its people in the making of its culture and future.

Our aim is to create a programme that is accessible to and specific to the communities of Rutherglen and that will invest in a legacy, connect communities, promote creativity, amplify young people's voices, empowering individuals and community groups, developing relationships with partners and stakeholders, build community locally and nationally, work towards shaping the future.

OUR CORE VALUES

Rutherglen 900 had strong core values with clear beliefs in how we create a programme that is rooted in community consultation and working in partnership with community groups. Building on the rich diversity, heritage and pride that Rutherglen currently has, our core values aim to continue to invest in the town's identity. Our core values include:
